Description

Item Specifics

Culture : The Americas

This Pre-Columbian tapered-poll axe shows wear and polish from heavy use, and still has a sharp bit. It was purchased in Virginia Beach, VA, from an ex-serviceman who had been stationed in Panama in the 1960's. This axe is nearly twice the size of the one listed last week and it, too, is flawless.

Over the next 24 months, I will be selling a collection of artifacts, antiquities, relics, and antiques assembled during the past 45 years. All items were legally acquired, are guaranteed to be authentic, and I offer a guaranteed full refund of the purchase price if returned in the same condition as sent within 3 weeks of the date of sale.

Items will be sent by First Class USPS mail, fully insured, with delivery confirmation. Postage charges are listed for delivery to buyers within the U.S. Postage fees for international buyers will be determined after the sale. Every attempt will be made to hold mailing costs to a minimum. I do offer combined shipping for multiple items purchased on the same day, with additional postage costs limited to those covering the extra weight and insurance required.

This is among the third group of items that I'm putting on eBay, and the experience gained from these initial listings will certainly make future sales and transactions go more smoothly. I'll do my best to answer any questions and resolve any problems that may arise.

Thank you for looking, and I hope to do business with you in the future.
